

TAMMANY CONCEDES THE NOMINATION OF JUDGE ALTON PARKER

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—Tammany announces that after the adjournment of the convention today they will hold a meeting and withdraw their objections to Judge Parker. They concede his nomination.

WILD SCENE WHEN CLEVELAND'S NAME IS MENTIONED.

Convention Gets Beyond the Control of the Chairman—Williams Has a Hard Time to Subdue the Delegates.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—A mention of the name of Grover Cleveland was cheered lustily.

A moment later the first scene of the session occurred. Mr. Williams declaring that it was brazenly offensive for the Republican party to attempt to seize the laurels of Grover Cleveland.

GREAT APPLAUSE.

A great outburst of applause followed, cheer after cheer was heard in the hall, and although the chairman used the gavel vigorously the convention was soon beyond his control. Delegates climbed upon their seats and yelled wildly. Again and again the cheers came in dense volume, despite cries of "order, order," and the ponderous pounding of the chairman's gavel.

WILD SCENE.

Then Mr. Williams stood back and watched the scene he had created. As the cheers and cries fell there were renewed cries and the demonstration lasted eight minutes.

Tim Murphy of St. Louis, standing in the center aisle, and encouraging the demonstration, was first requested to take his seat and then ejected from the hall by John I. Marton, sergeant-at-arms.

For several minutes after the Murphy incident the demonstration continued. Finally in desperation Mr. Williams threatened discontinuation of his speech.

"You have placed me here. I am your servant. If you don't want me to continue it is your pleasure. Then Mr. Williams secured control of the convention.

"I wish I had the lungs to speak louder, but I can not," Mr. Williams answered.

"What did you say?" came a voice from the gallery.

DISORDERLY SCENE.

So rapidly did the noise increase that Mr. Williams began to address himself directly to the persons on the platform.

This brought forth cries of "time" and "louder."

Mr. Williams, with all the voice he had left, turned to the audience and began to talk upon the race question. When he referred to the incident at the Republican convention when a colored child and a white child were both on the platform waving flags there were cries of "This is a white man's country." So great did the noise become that the sergeant-at-arms went down into the hall and ordered the aisles cleared.

But the police had difficulty in carrying out these instructions.

Mr. Williams had been speaking an hour and twenty minutes.

"Now a few words in conclusion," said Mr. Williams, "and if you are as pleased to hear that conclusion as I am to conclude this will be the most delighted audience that ever existed."

Mr. Williams spoke but a few words

PARKER'S OPPONENTS KEEP UP THE FIGHT AGAINST THE NEW YORK MAN IN CONVENTION.

Temporary Chairman Williams Calls the Vast Assemblage to Order and Makes the Opening Address—Scenes in Convention Hall.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—The Democratic National convention convened here this morning in the Exposition building. This monster meeting place, within the walls of which the Democracy's standard bearers are to be named, was the mecca for all whose interest here centers in the convention. The scenes of activity have been transferred from the hotels to this one common point. The corridors of the former, wherein for several days past all has been excitement, were deserted soon after the morning hours.

CROWDS ATTEND.

Long before the doors were opened vast crowds thronged the streets in the vicinity of the main entrance. In the surging line were men and women and visiting political organizations, eagerly seeking entrance. Those who have charge of the distribution of tickets have been deluged by requests but they will be applied only to the seating capacity of the hall.

SKIRMISHING.

The preliminary skirmishes have taken place and the big contest for the nomination for President is now on in earnest. The decoration of the convention hall was undertaken on a most elaborate scale. The great dome ceiling, which rises high above the floor, is covered with a fabric of solid yellow with here and there flourishes of a white mat, carrying out the architectural design. Within each of the sections of the ceiling is the star of one of the States, while in front of the gallery spaces are festooned with white cloth.

IN THE HALL.

The walls are adorned with the national emblem, forming a frame for the large color picture overhead. The splendor of the various colored gowns worn by the large number of ladies occupying seats in the galleries completed a scene both spectacular and picturesque. With the exception of bouquets on the table of the chairman, plants were not in evidence. The hall is an immense amphitheater. The accommodations for the general public, especially for the press, are much more complete than they were at the Chicago convention, and the best for the latter that have ever been provided at a national convention; every facility for the reporting of the proceedings and prompt dispatch of news to the world at large being afforded.

DELEGATES ARRIVE.

The participants in the convention proceedings occupy positions on the main floor, which forms an ellipse, the chairman's platform, with ample seating capacity, rising at the center in the rear.

The section allotted to delegates is directly in front of this platform. A large standard—red, white and blue disc—designates the location of the various delegations by States and incidentally adds to the attractiveness of the spectacle.

BAND ON HAND.

Directly opposite the platform and in the rear of the delegates is a stand where a band of thirty pieces played throughout the convention, filling in the gaps with stirring music.

The galleries encircle the ellipse, the seats rising in tiers. Seats on the platform and one section of the gallery immediately in its rear, are reserved for Governors, members of Congress, Mayors of cities and others of distinction.

WILLIAMS' SPEECH.

Naturally, the opening speech of John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, leader of the minority on the floor of the National House of Representatives who has been chosen for temporary chairman, was awaited with keen interest as he had been delegated to sound the keynote of the campaign, and as it was known he would deal with questions of vital importance in the coming struggle for party supremacy.

A stream of visitors and a drizzle of delegates were passing into the hall an hour before the time set for the opening of the convention. The anxious ones hurried to plant themselves in their seats before any other persons should pre-empt them.

Even before one-tenth of the delegates had arrived the hall became uncomfortably warm. The windows open but half way and are on a level with the top row of seats in the gallery.

DRAWING FOR SEATS.

In the drawing for seats Pennsylvania and Michigan were the fortunate ones, obtaining locations directly in front of the speaker's stand. Two-thirds of the way back to the rear was Nebraska. New York was in the front row, just to the left of Michigan. Indiana was directly be-

DARING WORK OF THE JAPANESE.

Send Four Torpedo-boat Destroyers Into the Harbor at Port Arthur—Plan Failed.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 5, 6:30 p. m.—A few nights ago Admiral Togo attempted to repeat the Japanese tactics at Wei Hai Wei during the Chinese war, by sending four torpedo boat destroyers creeping into the harbor which was protected by booms, but only one escaped. Two were sunk by the shore batteries and one was crippled.

The reckless bravery of the Japanese in going to almost certain destruction excites nothing but admiration here.

The channel at Port Arthur is so strewn with wrecks that evidently it was regarded unnecessary to use a boom. On account of the difficulty of getting into the harbor, the feat is considered to be fully as daring as that of the Japanese at Wei Hai Wei, where Japanese torpedo boats went into the harbor and destroyed war vessels.

It is said to have occurred Sunday. No further details are obtainable. Though it is believed other destroyers participated in the attack only four succeeded in getting in. The method whereby this information reached the authorities is not disclosed.

A dispatch received here from Vladivostok this afternoon does not mention the Russian squadron. The admiral has no confirmation of the report from Liao Yang, of an engagement between the Vladivostok squadron and Japanese warships of Gensan. There is good reason to believe that the Russian squadron is safe back in port.

It was announced from Tokio, that a belated report from Admiral Togo, contained some information regarding the torpedo attack.

RAINY SEASON STOPS FIGHTING.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 6.—The military critics generally take the view that serious military operations in Southern Manchuria are over until the rainy season has ended, and that in the meantime the Japanese will devote themselves to the siege of Port Arthur.

The test of the engines of the armored cruiser Admiral Nakhimoff on her trial run is pronounced to have been very satisfactory. The battleships Sissoyevsky and Navarin and the armored cruiser Svetlana are being fitted with hoists for coaling at sea.

An imperial ukase has been issued calling 447 recruits to the colors this year. This, on account of the war, is double the usual number.

RUSSIANS SAID TO HAVE WON.

LIAO YANG, July 6.—There are persistent reports in circulation that a hot engagement occurred today northward of Gensan between the Russian Vladivostok and Japanese squadrons, which ended favorably to the Russians.

NAVAL RESERVES ARE ORDERED OUT.

ST. PETERSBURG, July 6.—All the remaining naval reservists in the governments of European Russia, with the exception of Orenburg and Finley, have been called out by an imperial ukase. These are intended to make up the full complement of reserves at Baltic naval ports. The naval reservists in some districts have also been called out and ordered to Sebastopol.

HEAVY RAIN HELPS RUSSIANS.

LIAO TUNG, Tuesday, July 5 (Delayed in transmission).—The heavy rains which fell yesterday have converted the Tai-Tse river into a wild, swirling torrent, making it a defense against the Japanese. Today the sun is shining.

Some of the Russian detachments are making remarkable marches in spite of the bad roads.

General Kuraki's forces include many men of the reserve, armed with the old pattern rifles.

hind New York, while Massachusetts fared the worse of any of the great States, being in the last row.

The Philippine delegation came in with their banner, which was not floating free like those which had entered before it. It was an American flag of silk wrapped closely around the staff and tied hard and fast. This was done, according to one of the Philippine delegation, "with deliberate intent," as if to show that the Democratic convention did not recognize the Philippines a part of the nation.

Chairman Guffey of Pennsylvania strode in closely behind the Philippine flag and was heartily cheered.

CALLED TO ORDER.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—Exactly at noon Chairman J. K. Jones, of the National Committee called the convention to order. His appearance on the platform and the sound of his gavel brought forth a cheer from the floor and galleries.

Chairman Jones directed the sergeant-at-arms to procure order. He continued wrapping the table with his gavel, but it was some time before quiet reigned.

California's appearance with a huge silk banner and silk American flag and a yell, "California, California, Hearst, Hearst, Hearst!" caused cheering. Just as the California delegation reached its seat, after marching up and down the center aisle, William Jennings Bryan, who had come in unnoticed, arose in his place and was given a cheer.

Then an enterprising member of the Montana delegation created a disturbance by ringing a cow bell. Again Chairman Jones demanded that the convention be in order. After quiet was restored Chairman Jones announced that the convention would be opened by prayer by Rev. John E. Cannon, pastor of the Grand-avenue

TEA

There's plenty of money to smooth the little difficulties that happen; they do happen.

Your grocer returns your money if you don't like his bill.

Baptist Church of St. Louis. THE INVOCATION.

During the invocation the convention stood. Dr. Cannon's voice was entirely inadequate to reach even the center of the hall. The prayer occupied several minutes.

Enthusiastic cheering greeted the chairman's announcement that he was directed by the National Committee to appoint John Shary Williams temporary chairman, C. A. Walsh temporary secretary, and John E. Martin temporary sergeant-at-arms.

... ESCORTED TO CHAIR.

The chairman appointed Colonel John M. Guffey of Pennsylvania and M. F. Tarpey of California to escort Mr. Williams to the chair. As the platform was enclosed by a railing, it was necessary for the committee and Mr. Williams to climb over the railing. The committee lifted Mr. Williams safely over and the entire convention burst into cheers as he ascended the platform.

"I have the honor to introduce to you John S. Williams as temporary chairman," said Chairman Jones, and again the convention cheered.

FIRST SPEECH.

Mr. Williams was attired in a light gray suit. He delivered his address calmly and without gestures. Several cries of "Louder! Louder!" interrupted Mr. Williams as he began, his clear but not powerful voice at first failing to reach all parts of the hall.

DENSE CROWD.

As Mr. Williams proceeded his voice increased in volume and the delegates listened attentively.

The convention appeared considerably amused at Mr. Williams' humorous reference to the "mutual admiration society" of Roosevelt and Root, and when he read an eulogy by the President on Mr. Root the delegates laughed and applauded. Mr. Williams spoke in an ironical tone that caught the fancy of the convention and he was interrupted time and again by applause.

Cheering was evoked by the speaker's statement that Mr. Roosevelt had found praise for only three presidents—"Geo. Washington, Abraham Lincoln and himself"—and when he asked if the "Hell-raising Jack" Smith order was a sample of the moral sentiment for which the Republicans stood, a lusty cheer broke forth.

A great part of Mr. Williams' speech was delivered under great difficulties, for the speaker and those of his hearers who were supposed to be most directly interested in his remarks. The aisles leading past the delegates were packed by dense throngs, who kept up a constant hum of conversation that smothered Mr. Williams' voice. Policemen, who were stationed in this space around the platform to keep others away, did not by occupying the space themselves to the exclusion of all others.

Passing from the discussion of Mr. Root's speech, the speaker took up the Republican platform.

WILD SCENE.

and concluded his address greatly exhausted.

The perspiration was streaming from his face, his collar was a soft, white roll of linen, his voice was worn to a frazzle and could not be heard twenty feet from where he stood as he finished his speech.

As he finished after speaking for one hour and forty minutes, the band struck a medley of patriotic airs, the stirring strains of which "Dixie" calling for the wild cheers that never fail to follow the song no matter where sung or played.

BRYAN CHEERED.

The announcement of Mr. Bryan as a member of the resolutions committee from Nebraska, called forth a cheer. David B. Hill's name as a member from New York also brought forth applause.

CONVENTION ADJOURNS.

After announcing time and places for the various committee meetings, a motion was made by Bourke Cockran that the convention adjourn until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. The motion was adopted and the convention adjourned at 2:50 o'clock.

The jury was out about five minutes. Sentence will be pronounced on the defendant on July 11.

MUSIC SCARCE IN THE HALL.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—Not a note of music was heard in the hall during the long wait between the opening of the doors and the fall of the gavel. The concert which usually enlivens the prelude, was absent and it was just before noon that a band marched into the gallery, just opposite the platform. Its leader, several times flourished his baton to strike up a tune, but the energy of Chairman Jones in expediting the proceedings left no place for the band.

DROPS DEAD ON STREET CAR.

W. F. JUDSON, A CARPENTER, EXPIRES WHILE RETURNING FROM WORK.

W. F. Judson, a carpenter 56 years of age, dropped dead on a Piedmont car yesterday afternoon, while returning from work on a house being erected by Beach Soule in Piedmont. The deceased resided with his wife and daughter at 573 Minna street, San Francisco. The passengers on the car became considerably excited when the unfortunate victim fell forward on the car floor. Several of the passengers left the car in preference to riding with a dead man. When the car reached Fourteenth and Broadway, the body was carried into a drug store and a physician called, who pronounced the man dead. Heart trouble was undoubtedly the cause of death. During the entire afternoon Judson had complained of not feeling well. He lifted a very heavy door just before he quit work and it is thought that this effort was responsible for the exhaustion of the heart which resulted in a collapse.

The coroner has taken charge of the remains and will hold an inquest.

ARE NOT LEGALLY MARRIED.

Judge Greene Renders An Important Decision.

By a decision handed down by Judge Greene this afternoon several couples who were granted decrees of divorce and failed to have them set aside and interdictory decrees substituted in their stead must now wait another year before they can remarry, as, according to the decision, such decrees are void and an interdictory decree may not be substituted in their stead.

The point was raised in the case of S. A. Smith, who was granted an absolute decree of divorce from T. J. Smith a year ago. After the Supreme Court ruling had been handed down, which had the effect of reversing these decisions, no steps were taken to have an interdictory decree substituted. A few days ago, the year being up, Judge Greene was asked to grant an absolute decree upon the old decree made a year ago, which was an absolute decree. He took the matter under advisement, as he said that he was not quite sure that this could be done and in his decision made today the judge says:

It now appearing to the Court that the old decree made, as in the case of the jurisdiction of the Court by reason of the Court not having the power under the law to make such a decree, it is ordered that the decree be set aside. In the meantime another couple have waited for the decision of the judge, but have already considered the decree absolute and married. Annie M. Smith, who a year ago was granted a decree of divorce from John Sheppard, and was allowed to resume her maiden name of Smith was married a few days ago to Clarence Langdon. They were advised by their attorney that the decree would be upheld and secured a license from the County Clerk upon this representation and were married. Technically, Mrs. Langdon is not Mrs. Langdon, but is still the wife of John Sheppard, to whom she is legally bound as she was on her wedding day.

MARYLAND WILL VOTE FOR PARKER.

ST. LOUIS, July 6.—Colonel W. A. C. of the Massachusetts leader, called on the Maine, New Hampshire and Vermont delegations today in the interest of Mr. Olney, and they are practically agreed if Parker is not nominated after a reasonable number of ballots to turn to Olney.

The Maryland delegation at a meeting today decided to vote for Parker.

TELL OF A GREAT PARTY.

Republicans Gather at Jackson to Celebrate Important Event.

JACKSON, Mich., July 6.—Five thousand people assembled in Loomis Park here today to celebrate the fiftieth anniversary of the birth of the Republican party. "Under the Oaks." In this city July 6, 1854, it was here on that date that the first State convention acting under the name of "Republican" was held. The State ticket nominated on that day went through a heated campaign to election success.

JOHN HAY ORATOR OF DAY. Secretary of State John Hay, who was private secretary to Abraham Lincoln, was the first Republican President, was the orator of the day. Other distinguished guests present were Speaker Cannon of the National House of Representatives, Senator Fairbanks, Republican candidate for Vice President, and United States Senators Alger and Burrows of Michigan.

CITY DECORATED. The city is hung with bunting and band concerts on the main streets preceded the arrival of Secretary Hay and Senator Fairbanks with a company of prominent Republicans on a special train from Detroit. Speaker Cannon arrived last night. At the morning exercises at the Loomis Park, Mayor Todd delivered a brief address. Attorney General Charles A. Blair of Jackson then read an able paper on the history of the Republican party.

"UNDER THE OAKS." Thomas J. O'Brien of Grand Rapids the next speaker, was introduced as one of the participants in the original "Under the Oaks" convention of 1854. O'Brien, as well as Mr. Blair, read for the subject the history of the Republican party in Michigan.

In the afternoon the program at the grave was resumed. A tremendous audience was present when Senator Fairbanks in reduced Secretary of State John Hay, the orator of the afternoon.

Senator Fairbanks said in part: "Fifty years is a brief period when compared with the life of the elder nations, yet it embraces the entire life of the Republican party. A party whose achievements are among the most lasting and luminous of the deeds done by the human race since the beginning of the Government."

"The span of the last fifty years is, indeed, the golden age of the republic. During the greater part of that period the Republican party was in the ascendant, yet it embraces the entire life of the Republican party. A party whose achievements are among the most lasting and luminous of the deeds done by the human race since the beginning of the Government."

JUDGE PARKER IS AT HOME.

ESOPUS, N. Y., July 6.—Judge Parker recently declined an offer from a telegraph company to set up a wire and furnish him bulletins from the St. Louis convention. The company then decided to place an extra operator at Esopus, and today a large number of telegrams was received by the judge, presumably to keep him informed as to the developments of the situation. Judge Parker did not remain at home to receive them, however, going for a drive along the Hudson with several of his friends.

REL. HOAG SENDS A LETTER.

Resigns as Pastor of Plymouth Avenue Church.

Plymouth Avenue Congregational Church will need a new pastor.

Rev. Charles Wayland Hoag, the present incumbent of the position, who mysteriously disappeared from his home two weeks ago and who is now believed to be his parishioners to have eloped with Mrs. W. N. Benedict, of 558 Thirty-sixth street, has been heard from and decided to abandon the position he has held as leader of that church for the past year.

Members of his flock say that the reverend gentleman has written George Devoe, senior deacon of his church, telling his resignation of the pastorate. Mrs. Hoag has also written to her errand spouse, but refuses to be seen by newspaper people.

The matter of the resignation of Mr. Hoag, it is thought will come up this evening at the meeting of the church.

NO TRACE OF THE MURDERER.

POLICE UNABLE TO FIND MAN WHO DELIVERED FATAL BLOW.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 6.—Unless he should come forward, surrender himself and confess, the murderer of Julius Wolf, the ironworker whose skull was fractured in the fight at the Rock Island railroad bridge, Monday night, will never be brought to justice for his crime. Careful investigation by detectives has failed to develop any evidence that would be of avail in a prosecution.

They have been able to hear plenty of comment relative to the conduct of Dr. George Boskowitz, the physician who was in charge at the Emergency Hospital at the time Wolf was taken there by Frank Kelly, a friend, at 12 15 o'clock yesterday morning. Boskowitz did not know that Wolf had a fractured skull when the fracture was all the way around the base of the skull and there was an eighth of an inch between the fractured portions of the bone. He had Wolf in the hospital for three hours before death occurred and he diagnosed the case as one of a weak heart—an ironworker with a weak heart would be a novelty worthy of exhibition in the Museum of the Abnormalities.

Boskowitz did have some basis for his talk about alcoholism, because Wolf had been drinking heavily and any layman could see that. Detectives Mucabey and Coleman made an investigation here and interviewed Wolf's friends. They learned that the fight started between Jack Kyrne and "light complexioned fellow" at the bar. The "light complexioned fellow" struck the first blow over Kyrne's mark. Kyrne hit back and in a minute 11 of Kyrne's friends, including the light complexioned fellow, were involved in the fight. Boskowitz's rapid diagnosis was that it was impossible to tell who was the aggressor. Among those who have been connected with the fight are Kyrne, who is connected with the building trade, and Louis Losches, a pressman; Joe R. Smith, of 403 Mission street; William Mazure of 403 Mission street; John Kerrin of 124 Seville street; and Frank Kelly, of 475 Jessie street. The names of Willie Cliff, who is employed at the Eagle Laundry, and Mark have been connected with the affair. They returned on the 6:30 local and did not see the fight, which occurred about 9:20 p. m.

THEY CELEBRATED FOURTH OF JULY.

The McPherson bungalow was the scene of brilliant activity Monday night when a number of guests assembled and assisted in sending off a pretty display of fireworks.

The bungalow, which is the very acme of artistic skill, was gaily illuminated with Japanese lanterns. The bonfire in the foreground gave a picturesque charm to the scene.

The interior of the bungalow is slightly tinged with Orientalism. In its rich furnishings and a glass of beer shows that no expense has been spared to make it an ideal summer home.

Among the guests were many prominent Oakland people.

GREAT FEAR OF FLOODS.

WICHITA, Kans., July 6.—The flood conditions here are becoming alarming. The Arkansas river is higher than for years. On Douglas avenue cellars are being threatened. Cox-Johnson-Immond Dry Goods Company suffered heavy losses.

Work in the stockyards today stopped and the railroad workers feared that more stock could be received. The rails are under six inches of water north of Wichita.

Oats are ruined and wheat fields are covered with water. South-east of this city, in the wheat section, the uncultivated land is lying flat and little of it can be saved.

Not one in twenty are free from some little ailment caused by invasion of the liver. Use Carter's Little Liver Pills. The result will be a pleasant surprise. They give positive relief.

SAYS HIS WIFE MINISTER MAKES SECRETARY HAY IS SHOT AT HIM.

EXPLANATION.

JOHN B. HOUSE BRINGS AN ACTION TO SECURE A DIVORCE.

When his wife began to order him about with a loaded revolver John B. House says, in a divorce complaint filed today, that he believed it was time to get a divorce. On June 13th he says Martha House shot at him and only her poor aim, or his dodging ability, saved him from an ignominious grave.

House is a traveling salesman and alleges that his wife has taken to strong drink and that while under the influence of liquor she has made his life thrillingly interesting. Only a short time ago, he says that she told him as he was leaving his home to drive into the country that she hoped he would drive off the grade and break his neck.

On July 3 she ran him out of the house. She had been drinking for several days and had become very quarrelsome. The next day they quarreled again and she closed the door and attempted to keep him out of the house.

He told her that she did not let him in her home break down the door and sue him if he did that she would shoot him. House, notwithstanding the threat, picked up the door and entered the room. He was inside when his wife leveled a revolver at him and told him his time had come. He tried to improve his aim as he was shot at him before she was a little more deliberate about pulling the trigger.

Mrs. Hoag has also written to her errand spouse, but refuses to be seen by newspaper people.

The matter of the resignation of Mr. Hoag, it is thought will come up this evening at the meeting of the church.

KAW RIVER IS RISING.

GOES UP AT THE RATE OF FOUR INCHES AN HOUR.

TOPEKA, Kas., July 6.—The Kaw river here rose today at the rate of four inches an hour and tonight is still rising. Reports received from the west indicate that the river will rise two feet higher, reaching a stage of twenty feet before it becomes stationary, and that "Little Russia" in North Topeka, the scene of last year's disastrous flood, will be inundated.

The north end of the Rock Island railroad bridge, partially wrecked, and Rock Island trains are now being run over the Santa Fe bridge.

A member of Archibald Butler's recent exploring expedition along the British East African frontier in his report gives some glimpses of elephant hunting. He says: "Butter, while hunting in the thick forest, had a narrow escape from an infuriated cow elephant charged him in an alleyway in which he was impetuously undergrowth. His shots failed to turn her, and she got right over him as he attempted to wriggle out of sight. When she searched around with her trunk, Butler gave her both barrels; from underneath, which caused her to depart loudly without treading on him."

Remarkable Growth of the Transit System

No better evidence of the unexampled growth and prosperity of Oakland and the contiguous communities could be presented than the financial statements of the Oakland Transit Company. It is a showing that should be as gratifying to the public at large as to the stock owners of that corporation, since a prosperous concern is able to give a better service than one operating under financial difficulties and in receipt of indifferent returns. Here is the official comparative statement for the months of April and May, 1903 and 1904.

	Gross	Op Expenses	Net
April, 1904	$107 32 56	$10 602 90	$56,729 61
April, 1903	96 37 19	45 709 99	51,087 20
Increase	$10 95 37	$4,892 96	$5,642 41
May 1904	$111 36 58	$10 520 19	$60,476 69
May 1903	100 59 30	49,588 98	$55,840 51
Increase	$10 77 28	$3,881 20	$4,646 18

The showing for January, February and March is not so good but as the last two months showed the heaviest receipts the conclusion is irresistible that the business of the Transit Company is growing at an unprecedented rate. The financial statement for the first five months of this year makes the following showing:

	Gross Income	Operating	Net
January	$94,10 89	$52,309 10	$42,291 79
February	85,46 29	49,617 55	35,928 73
March	96,198 09	52,997 95	43,498 14
April	107,322 56	50,602 95	56,729 61
May	113,96 58	53,420 19	60,476 69

Total $497,82 71 $258,947 75 $238,884 96

This is a net monthly average of $47,707. On the basis of this average the net receipts of the company for the year above the cost of operation would be $573,104 or nearly 6 per cent on an investment of $10,000,000. But the steady and rapid growth in the company's business as shown by the comparative monthly statements indicates that the net receipts at the end of the year will foot up 15 or 20 per cent more than the sum indicated by the returns from the first five months operations. A 5 per cent increase will bring the total net earnings for the year up to $639,079. It would be hard to find a healthier financial showing or one more reassuring to bond stockholders. It is one on which the community can congratulate itself for it is a reliable index to growth and prosperous business conditions.

However there are some charges against the net earnings of the company to wit: taxes and bond interest. As the bonds simply represent capital invested in the Transit system the interest paid there is merely a return on investment and not an expense. But after deducting the interest on the $6,000,000 outstanding bonds the net surplus is still large enough to be gratifying to the stockholders. Interest account and taxes amount to $27,711 87 per month or $332,642 44 for the year. Deducting this sum from the year's net earnings indicated by the first five months statement there still remains the handsome net surplus of $240,015 56 to be applied to dividends on stock or expended in new construction. If we assume that the net surplus will be 10 per cent more than the amount indicated by the statement of operation for the months of January, February, March, April and May, it will aggregate $277,711 96.

In any event, the showing makes it plain that the Transit Company is earning a net income over and above every charge of over $10,000,000. While it is doing this it is giving the cities of Oakland, Alameda and Berkeley a better street car service than they have ever before enjoyed. This is largely due to the clever management of the general manager, W. F. Kelly, who has not only improved and extended the Consolidated system but has enormously increased its earning capacity. It is needless to say that he has also vastly increased its value from an investment standpoint. The equipment has been increased and improved in proportion to the growth of the system and the expansion of its business. An immense number of new cars of the modern pattern have been added to the rolling stock many of the old lines have been entirely reconstructed and the shops greatly enlarged. Mr. Kelly has a keen shrewd and foresighted enough to secure for the Transit Company practically all the street railway franchises worth having on this side of the bay. Every foot of the territory covered by his railway system is growing rapidly in business and population. Therefore the Transit system from a financial standpoint is a self-sufficiency yet and its 5 per cent net earnings for this year on a ten or twelve million dollar investment is a mere bagatelle compared to the returns it will yield in the future.

When one compares the physical condition of the Transit system with its physical condition four years ago the change is even more remarkable than the extraordinary growth of its earning power. While the unprecedented rapid growth of the community accounts for the enormous increase in traffic a vigorous and efficient management must be given the credit for the transformation in the physical aspect of a property that is probably today one of the most valuable of its kind in California or in the United States. The credit for this management seems due to Mr. Kelly and his assistant John Q. Brown. They have not only built up a system that is paying handsomely and is of great present and still greater prospective value but they have given the public a service worthy of praise and have virtually recreated a property of high excellence.

The sale of the Oakland school bonds is doubly gratifying to local pride. It is not only an evidence of the sound credit of the city but furnishes a conclusive proof of the stability and financial strength of the local banks. The entire issue of $900,000 was taken up at a premium by the banks of Oakland showing that this city has no need to go abroad to finance its public enterprises.

If some of the merchants who complain of the dust and dirt in the streets would cease sweeping the "ruts" and dirt from their stores into the gutter they would have less reason to complain.

Judge Parker's willingness to trust the American people is a delicate reminder of the fact that he deserves to be taken on trust. One good turn deserves another.

Secretary Hay demanded that the Sultan of Morocco deliver up Perdicaris, alive or Rastul dead. Subsequent events indicate that the demand might have been reversed without doing much injury.

While California peaches bring better prices in Eastern markets than Georgia peaches the Georgia grower can undersell his California competitor and make a considerable profit. This is because in Georgia land is cheaper, the cost of tillage, picking and packing smaller and the rates of transportation lower. Thus while California raises the better fruit it is compelled to meet a competition that is exceedingly severe. Under the circumstances the railroads should give the fresh fruit shippers of this State the lowest possible rates and the quickest service for the growth and prosperity of the fruit industry are important factors in the profitable operation of the railroads. Of course the railroads cannot be expected to do business on an unprofitable basis but they should be content with a reasonable margin of profit as is consistent with sound financial management.

Clean Food and Adulteration

While food adulteration was never more prevalent than it is today there is every reason to believe that food actually consumed was never in the history of the world so healthful and clean as it is nowadays. Most of the adulterations are harmless, they represent trade dishonesty rather than vicious diet.

We hear much of unclean dairies and unhealthy cows, but the truth of the matter is that mankind is too particular and inquiring about such matters. We are looking more closely into what we eat and drink. We are submitting all kinds of food to the chemical analysis and we know more about chemistry and physiology than formerly. Every day we learn more about the effects of the various foodstuffs on the system. We are learning how to prepare and cook our foods in ways to promote the best results to health. While we are studying digestion and food properties we are getting rid of the squeamishness of ignorance and the prejudices of custom and inherited tradition.

The water used for domestic purposes was never so pure and healthful as it is today. There has been an evolution in the slaughtering and preparing of meats for market. Cooking is infinitely cleaner and based upon more scientific principles. The kitchen of today is a miracle of cleanliness compared to the kitchens of the past, and in no particular has there been more salutary advancement than in the matter of kitchen drainage. If adulteration prevails rigid inspection is preventing the sale of diseased meats, and fruit and vegetables in a state dangerous to health. This system of inspection coupled with sanitary laws, is limiting the range of adulteration and putting unhealthy food compounds under ban. There is a great reform in his direction yet to be made, but the progress of recent years has been simply wonderful. The fight for purity and health cannot be won in a day, it is a battle of years and continued effort. If we compare for instance, the dairy products marketed today with those that were sold thirty or forty years ago it will be seen that what comes from the dairy in these times is far more cleanly and more wholesome than what came from it in times past. So we are not so bad off, notwithstanding the cheats practiced on the public.

Taking the assessment roll as an evidence, San Francisco is a wealthy city per capita than even New York. The footings of the roll for 1904 show an assessed valuation of some $512,000,000 about $1,160 per capita. This by no means represents the real wealth of San Francisco, but the figures are also enough to be imposing. In New York City the per capita assessment is not quite so large. Furthermore the tax rate in San Francisco is less than half the tax rate in the metropolis, showing that capital is located as advantageously in the chief city of California as anywhere in the country. If we accept certain small suburban cities inhabited mainly by wealthy men who choose their places of residence solely for the facility afforded for escaping taxation.

The search for the man who fired the cannon in the plaza promises to become as historic and fruitless as the quest for the man that "ruck Billy Patterson. The latest theory is that some browsing animal touched the gun off but this does not throw any light on the puzzle where the "oad" came from.

Hints for the Ladies.

Watched sets of circular founces bands and insertions to match are the very latest ideas in embroideries for both lingerie and gowns.

Futheis linen or some heavy crash-like material embroidered in silk in brilliant Buganville, Slavonic, colors is one of the greatest favorites in neckwear.

One of the prettiest of the knowns are the central part of sheer white lawn. The collar and sleeve ruffles are formed from the corners of handkerchiefs in which light and dark blues are prettily blended.

Do you know that the cuffs and collars made from white silk braid are much more dainty and dainty if finished around the outer edge with a very narrow duchesse or valenciennes edge, slightly ruffled on.

A pretty oddity in collars is a soft linen turnover collar opening in front and embroidered and having two buttonholes through which a bright silk tie is drawn to be tied in a loose knot. Windsor ties are arranged in two short wide loops and two long broad and pointed ends and dubbed the "Wyvern" bow.

Time was when damask towels with long fringed ends, though India permissible for the best bedroom. Now the hickaback towel is the proper thing for one's evening fashion edit is sensible. The hickaback towel is the skin more quickly than the damask. A new finish for towels which is coming into favor is the buttonhole scallop. Fringe soon to be raised, hemmed, and the towel split and wears out the scallop wears as long as the towel.

A crawling rug for a baby is easily made. A very simple one is made of a cotton blanket edged with a border of red, white and blue with the same as it is cut out and buttonholes on to it. Another good rug is made of cheap art serge costing about 1 shilling a yard double width. This with animals cut out in ordinary house flannel and worked with brown worsteds is very attractive looking. A child who will not criticize the exact form of the flannel monkeys, cats, dogs, etc. and will find them all charming.

A gift which every woman appreciates is a set of covers for her dressing table. It is the vogue to make covers of flowered dimity, feather stitched and then edged with lace. Make a cover for the top of the pin cushion in the same way, also a top and ruffle for the glove and hairbrush boxes. The hairpin holder if made from a round type can be covered with the material and ruffled on the edge and the longer hairpin holder may be trimmed in the same style. The ribbons for bows and loops are all of the same shade as the stitching but need not be all of the same width.

Linen scrim makes handsome and in expensive table and bureau covers if worked in a cross stitch pattern with double flower or sun silk. The pattern chosen may be as elaborate or as simple as one prefers. The spread is first hemmed at the ends, then hemmed in the middle, a small spread. Within the hem the border is worked. Pillow and cushion covers are also worked on the same material. A pillow top seen recently was worked in yellow silk a number of times and patterns being combined so that it was almost solidly worked. It was very handsome and represented a good deal of patience and eyesight.

A FRIEND

It is the whiteness of soul that first Virgil had he walks the earth in classic robes, in state of peace and peace and quiet mirth.

His presence wins me to repose, When he is with me I forget, All heaviness and when he goes, The comfort of the sun is set.

But in the lonely hours I learn How I can serve and thank him best, G at trouble him, that he may turn Though sorrow to the only rest.

—Lionel Johnson in Littell's

Didn't you say you had all the comforts of home?" asked the indignant guest.

Well answered Farmer Comstock after you found we gone we take board here. That's what we take board here. —Washington Star

SCIENCE SCORES AGAIN

A Preparation That Will Destroy the Dandruff Germ Discovered

Finally the scientific student has discovered a certain remedy for dandruff. When it first became known that dandruff is the result of a germ or parasite that digs into the scalp and saps the vitality of hair at the root causing falling hair and baldness biologists set to work to discover some preparation that will kill the germ. After a year's labor in one laboratory the dandruff germ destroyer was discovered, and it is now embodied in Newbro's Herpicide. It promptly eradicates dandruff. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit Mich. Bowman & Co., Special Agents.

The Terrors of War.

O thou cruel god of battles Russo-Japanese battles. Still thy deadliest hand this minute, Ere the scrapping of the nations.

Takes great spaces in the papers. Filling column after column. With the stories of the marching.

Of the scouting and the fighting. Of the sieges and the burning. Batt's on the land and ocean.

Horse and foot and sailors fighting. Sordid hosts of Romaniowski. Meeting those of Mutsaers.

Full of vodka and of sake. On the plains of Shizuka. By the Mount of Fushimi.

On the "Chenokolnitski". Vichavostek and Kosmogradeka. Cherevokoshavski. Huga.

Iga. Setu and Shikoku. Kuropatkin with his Cosacks. On the jump from Horobumi.

Sumatras and the Japanese. Chasing Alexandrovitch. Shukishki ship of shooting.

Punching Petropavlovsk's sides in. But enough. Old god of battles. You can see the death terror.

People reading of their battles. And our jaws should not be broken. Merely seeking information.

SINGULARITIES

In England the purchase of an advowson or the right to succeed to a vacant office is not uncommon. There is a story told of a country vicarage where incumbent was though but middle aged very infirm.

His tenure of the position was being so uncertain the living was being bought by the auctioneer who at the time had the disposal of all church performances mentioned as a special advantage to intending purchasers that the then holder could not last long. To put this prospect to the test several possible buyers were down to the village to look over the vicar.

A father and son attended the Sunday services at the church. A servant led in the living vicar but the latter managed to get through a very generally delivered sermon lasting for half an hour. In the afternoon he again conducted service baptized children and preached for fifty minutes. Service in the evening was to follow. But the man who had come to buy had been seen enough.

My son he said had been seen enough. A good job I am not and he forthwith departed in the end a young person bought the place for himself. The invalid outlived by twenty years the man who had bought his living he lasted fifty years beyond the sale and died of sheer old age at 82.

Years ago four New Zealand princes visited Eng and a friendly Englishman entertained them at lunch. The four princes ate fourteen pounds of roast beef and pointed to tattoo the face of their host in return for his kindness. The after proceedings were equally felicitous until the master of the house produced a case of stuffed lizards. With shrieks and yells the warriors rushed from the house like deer and the war of the garden and those of adjoining ones. A drawing room window was open. Shrieking in fear an indignation that through it and at a young man's through it. There sat an elderly lady knitting stockings. She was frightened nearly out of her wits by the sight of the war of the garden had never before seen anything like that which had alarmed them. The lizards simply represented devils to them as they were anxious not to remain in such company.

Japanese Buddhists have a word "razor" which is translated by "dictionaries" as to imitate but it has the esoteric meaning of to substitute in imagination one object or action for another so as to bring about some magical or miraculous result. An example of this is laying a pet before the image of Buddha to show that you would like to build a temple in his honor if you were rich enough and making a bookcase revolve which contains the 8771 volumes of the Buddhist canon and earnestly wishing that you had time to read them by which you acquire the same merit as if you read as if you did read them. The bookcase is fitted with a kind of carapan for the purpose.

WILL TALK ABOUT WATER.

OFFICIALS FROM THE BAY CITIES SOON TO HOLD A MEETING.

Councilman Aiken last night presented a resolution asking the bay cities on this side of the bay to meet in this city to organize a representative body to confer with the San Francisco Board of Supervisors relative to obtaining a water supply. In introducing the resolution, he said: "The reason I presented this tonight

Bright's Disease and Diabetes.

THIS SINGLE STATEMENT RECORDS FIVE RECOVERIES BY THE FULTON COMPOUNDS.

A. P. Forbes, the mining expert, of 337 Pine street, San Francisco, has several properties in Oregon and is in charge of his nephew, Robert Forbes, to whom he is much attached. His nephew's health failed, he was much distressed to learn that it was Bright's Disease, and he immediately interviewed some of those who had recovered in San Francisco under the Fulton compound. Among others, he knew personally the late N. W. Spaulding, ex-U. S. Sub-Treasurer of San Francisco, and also Charles Engleke, editor of one of the German papers. They satisfied him of the genuineness of the claims—Mr. Spaulding telling him of the complete recovery of his daughter, after physicians said she was beyond help with Bright's Disease, and Engleke also had recovered from the same disease under the same treatment. This decided Mr. Forbes, and he sent Fulton Compound without delay to his nephew, who was soon about his usual duties and finally recovered. This was in December, 1902.

We met Mr. A. P. Forbes on Montgomery street the past week and asked him how his nephew was. He said: "He is all right, and he is doing a fine business."

"I was so delighted at his recovery that I told a great many about it—among others, a lady, who took her interest in it, as she had two friends at that time with Bright's Disease. She interested them both, particularly one of them, who knew I did not see her for a long time, but met her recently and was delighted to have her thank me. She gave me the pleasant information that both had recovered."

Note that this short narrative records the recovery of five different people from Bright's Disease.

About 87 per cent of all cases of Bright's Disease and Diabetes are curable by the Fulton compounds. Send for literature and list of agents. J. H. Fulton, 409 Washington street, San Francisco, sole compounders.

When to suspect Bright's Disease—puffy ankles or hands—weakness without visible cause—kidney trouble after third month—frequent urination—smoky urine—falling vision—day drowsiness—one or more of these.

is that the Supervisors of San Francisco wish to consult with us in Oakland, I believe that it is time that we should encourage the movement. I hope my colleague will support the resolution."

Howard—I move the adoption of the resolution.

Willance—I consulted with three of the Supervisors today and asked them why we had not been officially informed of their resolution asking the bay cities to unite in attempting to get a water supply from the Sierra Nevada. The clerk, Mr. Fahey, told me that he had been out of town and that the Mayor had not signed the resolution. The clerk said, however, that he would mail a copy this afternoon and I am surprised that we have not had official notification yet.

Chairman Smith also had a discussion with a San Francisco Supervisor. He said he was surprised that we had not received notification and said he would investigate it.

The matter was then put to a vote and unanimously carried.

Allen's resolution is as follows: "Whereas, A committee of the Board of Supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco is at this time investigating the subject of supplying said city and county of San Francisco and the inhabitants thereof with water obtained from the Sierra Nevada mountains; and

Whereas, The laws of the State of California allow two or more municipalities to jointly acquire and operate a plant for the purpose of supplying their respective inhabitants with water; therefore be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Council of the city of Oakland that steps should be taken at this time by the people of this city to join with the people of the city and county of San Francisco and such other cities as may express the same desire to acquire a source of water supply in the Sierra Nevada mountains for municipal purposes; and be it further

Resolved, That the clerk of this Council be and he is hereby directed to forward copies of this resolution to the Board of Supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco and the Boards of Trustees of the cities of Alameda and Berkeley with a view of ascertaining if it is the desire of the governing bodies of the aforesaid cities to acquire a joint municipal water supply, and if such be the case to arrange for a joint meeting of the governing bodies of each of the aforesaid cities at the earliest practical date, said meeting to be held in the city of Oakland."

OAKLAND TRANSIT GETS FRANCHISE.

The transfer of the franchise for an electric road to run from Fourth avenue and Nineteenth street to First avenue and Twelfth street was made today by F. E. Chapin to the Oakland Transit Company.

The projected line will be used as a feeder to the company's main lines on Twelfth street.

The Oakland Transit Consolidated made application for this franchise to the City Council on January 25 of this year. J. H. Macdonald, however, overbid the company and was granted the franchise on March 7. Macdonald later sold this franchise, as well as another on College way to F. E. Chapin, who today transferred the East Oakland franchise to the Oakland Transit Consolidated. The consideration is not given.

Deputy City Clerk Holland has gone to Watsonville on a vacation. He intends to be gone two weeks.

WIFE DEAD, HUSBAND MISSING.

The police have not yet been able to locate Henry Terrick, whose wife died yesterday in West Berkeley. Relatives are very desirous of finding him.

ROOM WORKERS HAVE RETURNED.

Wells Brewster reports to the police that his rooms at the Clarendon Hotel were entered some time last night and most of his wearing apparel taken. He lost two sets of shoes, a suit and a grip containing articles of wearing apparel. This is the first robbery of this kind which has occurred in ten days. Two weeks ago there was a series of these thefts and the police made more than ordinary efforts to capture the room workers.

FINED FOR BATTERY.

Daniel Fenton was fined $20 this morning with the alternative of spending 10 days in prison for battery committed on T. Burke, a bartender, at a saloon at the corner of Seventh and Brush streets.

raise a revenue by taxation to support the Federal government in vitality, in simplicity a subject to represent in a business-like way. It will be fairer when it comes to declaring for a reduction of tariff taxation on trust-produced articles to the point where foreign competition may enter the American market, when combines raise the price to the American consumer to the point of extortion, nor will it falter in declaring for reduction where American concerns actually charge American consumers higher prices than those charged by foreigners for identical articles. It will come out flatfooted for amiable, rather than retaliatory trade relations with the nations of the world, and especially for generous reciprocity with Canada. It will denounce a reckless and unscrupulous candidate of the Republican party in his letter to ex-Secretary Root upon the second anniversary of Cuban independence. It will announce in an unmistakable way that we have no duty of a sort to intervene in the national affairs of other countries. We will announce unmistakably to the world that we will not make of the army and navy of the United States a contributory to the collection of debts in the governments or peoples of South and Central America.

WHAT DEMOCRATS WILL DO.

"A Democratic administration will reduce the revenue of the Government to a sum adequate to the needs of economical and constitutional administration, plus a weak margin for contingencies which cannot be foreseen. It will speak out unmistakably against the Republican party of starting home development in order to feed the schoolboy appetite of national prestige and mere display of strength. It will bring about the upbuilding of a merchant marine and bring it about without new and additional taxation upon the people and without bounties from the public treasury simply by a recurrence to those laws which were in force when we had a merchant marine of which every American citizen was proud. Under Democratic administration the rights of labor will be recognized as 'no less vested, no less sacred, inalienable than the rights of capital. The Democratic party will not hypocritically pretend to sympathize with those who desire and those who would not by all lawful and educational means prevent the Americanization or mongrelization of any State or community within the boundaries of the American republic.

PANAMA CANAL.

"Under the treaty with the Republic of Panama, which was rendered possible only by Democratic votes in the Senate of the United States, votes difficult for Democrats to cast because of the manner in which that treaty was introduced, was ushered into the world—the Democracy, when entrusted with power, will construct the Panama canal speedily, honestly and economically, thereby giving to our people what Democrats have always contended for—a greater international trade, furnishing cheaper and better and less trammelled trade relations with the peoples of the world. However shamefully the Panama republic was born, and however shameful our connection with it, it was born, and is now recognized by us and by the other civilized nations of the world as an entity and independent government on the surface of the earth.

ON ANIMAL INSTINCTS.

Dr. Jacques Loeb, Great Biologist, to Explain Theories Tonight.

BERKELEY, July 6.—Two lectures of exceptional interest to the scientific world and the public generally are to be given at the University of California tonight. At 8 o'clock Dr. Jacques Loeb, the world-famed biologist, is to lecture in the Philosophy building and at the same hour Professor A. A. Stanley, who is giving a popular course in music at the Summer School will deliver a special address in the Students' Observatory.

The subject of Dr. Loeb's lecture is to be "The Theory of Animal Instincts from the Point of View of Heredity." The researches of this distinguished scholar into the origin of the life principal and his remarkable discoveries connected with his work looking toward the solution of the life problem have brought him prominently before the scientific world and his utterances are awaited with interest by scholars in America and Europe. The subject of his lecture this evening is closely allied to his investigations into the secret of life and promise to be doubly interesting for that reason.

The subject of Professor Stanley's lecture is to be "Bayreuth and the Wagnerian Festival." Professor Stanley is the foremost teacher of music in the United States and his courses are among the most popular now being given in Berkeley. Both lectures are open to the public whether members of the Summer School student body or not.

"SHENANDOAH" IS A DRAWING CARD.

The presentation of Bronson Howard's "Shenandoah" is attracting large crowds to Liberty. Wars and rumors of war fill every act and make thrilling scenes. Bennett Southard is a very capable actor and in the earlier scenes he spoke his lines well. Louisa Stevens spoke his lines with perfect sympathy and seems to be learning the lower that may be gained through repit.

BERKELEY GRADUATE FINDS A GOLD MINE.

After Months of Labor and Much Suffering College Man Makes Great Strike.

BERKELEY, July 6.—After prospecting for months in a dreary British Columbia drift, away from every human habitation and with but one companion, Harold Childs, a graduate of the Mining Department of the State University, has written that he has struck a vein, which if indications continue will make him independently rich. The mine is located just over the American line in the mountains of British Columbia. For months Childs and his companion would work away without seeing a sign of a human being other than themselves. When provisions would become exhausted, he would take to and deal with the self-digestion of organs. The bulletins are extremely technical and can be comprehended only by those who have made a special study of the subject.

BERKELEY PASTOR TO RESIGN CHARGE.

BERKELEY, July 6.—Rev. Benjamin Sargeant, for the past five years pastor of the North Berkeley Congregational Church, has announced his intention of resigning his charge in order that he may take up his work in another State. He preached his anniversary sermon last Sunday and at that time made the announcement to his congregation. The Rev. Mr. Sargeant is well liked by his congregation and the announcement that he will soon leave Berkeley has been received with regret.

INVESTIGATIONS AID OLIVE GROWERS.

BERKELEY, July 6.—G. W. Shaw, professor of agriculture at the University of California, has just sent to the press of the State Printing Office the trail, and make his way for over fifty miles to a settlement, where a new stock might be procured. Childs graduated from the University only two years ago. To the young college graduate the loneliness of the situation was almost unbearable. He pluckily stuck to it, however, and his reward came when the vein was struck. Childs first saw the drift, when returning home from the mines in which he had been working. The indications were good for gold, but after he started to work, for a while these indications seemed to fail. Finally, they located the vein, and hastily filed claims upon the land. A stock company will be organized and a mill erected at the mine.

For the last six months or more Professor Shaw has been at work studying the various conditions under which the olive is grown here, and has reached some conclusions that will be of great benefit to the growers.

Two phases of the olive industry in which Professor Shaw has been particularly interested are the centrifugal method of extracting the oil and the discovery of a method that will prevent the formation of crystals in the oil after it has been bottled.

Mrs. Coultson will give her first summer school address at Pacific Grove, August 15 and 16.

HONORS THE FLAG AT PARISO.

JULIUS ABRAHAMSON PRESIDES AT BARBECUE ON NATION'S BIRTHDAY.

PARISO SPRINGS, July 6.—The devotion of people of Oakland to the anniversary of the declaration of National independence is not confined to those who happen to remain at home when that anniversary is observed. It characterizes also all Oaklanders whose the pursuit of pleasure or the search for rest and recreation has led to the seashore, springs or mountains of the Golden State. As a consequence, in a number of the summer resorts on Monday last, Oaklanders took part in exercises in honor of the great national holiday and prominent among these festive events was that at this place, the Carlsbad of America, where several hundred people joined in the festivity. An elaborate barbecue was one of the features of the occasion and good cheer was a fitting accompaniment to the expression of unifying devotion to the flag. The orator of the day was Attorney Richard of San Francisco, who made an eloquent speech. The occasion was presided over by Julius Abrahamson, of the well-known dry goods firm of Abrahamson Brothers, who spoke eloquently as follows, in assuming the duties of the position, which he discharged with grace and ability:

"A few years ago, I had occasion to journey for a time in foreign countries. While abroad, there was nothing that disturbed my peace. There was nothing that made me feel, particularly, the need of the protection of which the American flag is my emblem. I resolved civil and courteous attention outside my own land of liberty, but it was not my home, and I was not a native. Ten years ago on this blessed patriotic day, the Americans and myself on board ship, saw when about a hundred miles from the nation's shores, the grand old glory floating from the mast-tops of Sandy Hook without a star dimmed or a stripe soiled. This was all due to the patriots of this country. It was a blessed moment and I was proud of my country, remembering the patriots who had sacrificed their lives upon the altar because of their regard for humanity. And today, I take off my hat in admiration of the warriors who gave us this liberty-loving America, where every man has a right to meet his neighbor. We are a united country. We know no north, no south, no east, no west. All we know is a Creator that is equal to heart, to all men and nationally alike, where men and women have equal rights, denoting that strife has ended in peace and that we shall celebrate, so that, our children, the monument we leave behind, will be able to understand the tenets of our laws and the glory of America, that we may be able to carry the torch to the future of this liberty-loving country of America. Therefore, ladies and gentlemen, I ask you to join with me in raising the cup brimming full to the glory of America.

Mr. Abrahamson's remarks were the keynote of the commemoration and conducted to one of the most pleasant occasions of the day held in this famous resort.

STORY OF GREAT WAR

J. P. Nourse Makes Gift to Berkeley Town Library.

BERKELEY, July 6.—Joseph P. Nourse, an old resident of North Berkeley and a veteran of the Civil War, last night presented to the Berkeley Town Library a complete set of the records of the great war of the rebellion. There are only a few copies of this work in existence and consequently it makes quite an addition to the library.

Mr. Nourse's gift was accepted at last night's meeting of the Board of Library Trustees. The set contains 124 volumes of records and 33 volumes of war maps. This colossal work was issued by the Department of War just after the end of the great strife. It has now been brought out of print and few copies are to be obtained at any price.

HAYWARDS FORESTERS HAVE FINE OUTING ON FOURTH.

HAYWARDS, July 6.—The picnic and masquerade given by the Foresters' Band on the Fourth at Fernbrook Park was a most enjoyable affair and the masquerade ball in the evening was likewise successful in every way. The first prize at the masquerade was won by Mr. McCarthy, of San Leandro. The prize for the best dressed gentleman was awarded to Miss Blanche Cramer of San Francisco.

Much of the success of the affair is due to the able management of the committee in charge, consisting of Deputy Assessor J. W. McCoy and T. H. Hornbake. Mr. McCoy was floor manager of the ball.

ELMHURST HOME BURNED.

RESIDENCE OF CHARLES T. KELLEY TOTALLY DESTROYED BY FIRE.

ELMHURST, July 6.—Yesterday morning the home of Charles T. Kelley, on Peach street, between Bay View and Montclair View avenues, was burned to the ground.

The fire occurred at about 1:30 a. m. and could not be checked. While the family escaped injury every stick of furniture and all other possessions were consumed.

It is thought that sparks from fireworks caught in the dry grass surrounding the house and thus started the disastrous blaze. The property was partially insured. The total loss is said to be in the neighborhood of $1500.

Mr. Armstrong states that the California building is a very attractive and popular place and he only one in which refreshments are furnished free every day.

A. W. ATHEITON HAS RESIGNED.

Editor TRIBUNE: In view of the fact that four members of the County Central Committee of the Union Labor Party of Alameda County—Craighall, Sinclair, Silva and Moore—have affiliated themselves with the practical Republican politicians of this county, and acting under the cunning advice of Mr. Armstrong and O'Brien, and with the consent of a Republican Board of Supervisors, have successfully gained control under a strained technicality, of the County Central Committee in the face of the protest of a majority of said committee therein formally in evidence, it becomes my duty to announce to the members of said Union Labor Party, whom I represent, and to all other good citizens who are interested, that there is no remedy at law for the Union Labor Party by reason of limitation of time, and that all that can be expected of the Union Labor Party in the coming campaign is to act as a paid side-show to the real contest. I have provided the coming convention is dominated by the parties mentioned, as it probably will, since they have the calling of it and practically the naming of the delegates.

I have this day filed my resignation as secretary of the committee, and as a member thereof. It remains for me, as for all who contend for assuming further responsibility in this connection until two years from now.

AMONG THE LIONS.

A hunter of big game in Central Africa tells the following story of what happened one day after he shot an antelope. Leaving the boy who was with me to look after the antelope, I went on to track the wounded bull. Its spoor took me in the direction of camp and presently turned into a patch of fresh green grass about half a mile from camp. I went for a bit and then stepped on a high turf of old grass to look for my boy. As I glanced round I saw the head of a lion about forty yards away. Only two cartridges remained in my pouch. However, I raised my rifle to the head, when it popped another, then another, until I counted no fewer than six lions. While following the spoor I had been going round in a half circle and just beyond the lions I could see my boy coming toward me straight for them. They were all watching me by this time and I signaled to him to go back, but he did not understand me, and still came on till about thirty yards from them. He was carrying the antelope (skinned) dead on his shoulders and immediately he saw the lions he stopped dead and I heard him say "Hoh!" They were then about heads at this and one of them grunted something also resembling "Hoh!" As they turned a hal a splendid opportunity for a shot at the biggest, but with the ammunition I had and the position of myself and the native in the long grass I thought it rather risky.

I shouted to the boy to make a detour and come alongside me, which he did, the lions watching him all the time. We tried to drive them out of the grass into the open beyond where I would have felt safe in firing, but they were feeding on the lecture which had wounded and as we approached a lioness put her tail in the air and growled. So, considering discretion the better part of valor, and as dusk was coming on, we beat an orderly retreat. We were near the head of the channel which I had crossed previously, and, to get round the top end where it was shallow, to cross, we had to walk with our right legs in the mud for 300 yards and then waded across knee deep. When I got to the other side I looked back and counted the heads of seven lions against the skyline; they had followed us to the water's edge.

There was not light enough to risk a shot and as I had hopes of meeting them on the morrow when better prepared I did not disturb them, but made by way back to camp, where I arrived after dark. The other lions had such a lecture and I was informed that the cook and another boy had seen two lions not far from where I met them. We prepared bullets that night and next morning at daybreak went out after them. We found the remains of a lion's den. We prepared bullets that night and next morning at daybreak went out after them. We found the remains of a lion's den. We prepared bullets that night and next morning at daybreak went out after them. We found the remains of a lion's den.

Band trimmings of every description are seen on many of the new gowns.

all watching me by this time and I signaled to him to go back, but he did not understand me, and still came on till about thirty yards from them. He was carrying the antelope (skinned) dead on his shoulders and immediately he saw the lions he stopped dead and I heard him say "Hoh!" They were then about heads at this and one of them grunted something also resembling "Hoh!" As they turned a hal a splendid opportunity for a shot at the biggest, but with the ammunition I had and the position of myself and the native in the long grass I thought it rather risky.

I shouted to the boy to make a detour and come alongside me, which he did, the lions watching him all the time. We tried to drive them out of the grass into the open beyond where I would have felt safe in firing, but they were feeding on the lecture which had wounded and as we approached a lioness put her tail in the air and growled. So, considering discretion the better part of valor, and as dusk was coming on, we beat an orderly retreat. We were near the head of the channel which I had crossed previously, and, to get round the top end where it was shallow, to cross, we had to walk with our right legs in the mud for 300 yards and then waded across knee deep. When I got to the other side I looked back and counted the heads of seven lions against the skyline; they had followed us to the water's edge.

There was not light enough to risk a shot and as I had hopes of meeting them on the morrow when better prepared I did not disturb them, but made by way back to camp, where I arrived after dark. The other lions had such a lecture and I was informed that the cook and another boy had seen two lions not far from where I met them. We prepared bullets that night and next morning at daybreak went out after them. We found the remains of a lion's den. We prepared bullets that night and next morning at daybreak went out after them. We found the remains of a lion's den.

Band trimmings of every description are seen on many of the new gowns.

GEORGE W. REED IS BACK FROM THE EAST.

Tells About the Chicago Convention —Alameda's Showing at the World's Fair.

"Here is a chance for Alameda County to coin a beautiful banner, which will be, as once, a symbol of Republicanism and proof of the Republicanism that is in this county, by turning out one of the old-time majorities for the Republican nominees in the next national election."

These words were spoken last night by George W. Reed, the well known attorney of this city who had just returned from his three-weeks' trip to the East, during part of which time he was a delegate to the National Republican Convention which was held in Chicago.

HANDSOME TROPHY.

"That banner," continued Mr. Reed, "is one of the handsomest which has ever been taken to a national convention anywhere. It was gotten up by the California delegation to the National Republican Convention, and it was decided by that delegation to give it to the county in this State giving the largest number of Republican votes to the Republican nominees in the next national campaign, in proportion to its population—that is, any county casting 3000 votes. It was made for the delegation and we are going to put it to as good a cause as possible."

ONLY BANNER IN HALL.

"That banner," declared Mr. Reed, "with considerable elation as he considered the distinction which California had sustained in the late convention, was the only banner that entered the convention hall. The California delegation was the only delegation that was able to get its banner into the place in which the delegates were held. (Laughter.) Jake Steppacher, secretary of the Committee got it in some way. How did he get it in? Oh, I don't know. I suppose by a case of wine or in some other way. It was perfectly proper though. Why didn't other States get their banners in? I don't know. There was a rule against banners going into the hall."

ELUDED SERGEANT-AT-ARMS.

"The sergeant-at-arms said that no banners should go into the hall. But ours got in there all right, through the effort of Steppacher and it was carried around the convention hall and was followed by the delegates. It was the center of one of the most animated scenes in the convention and that feature, with a number of others, impressed on the minds of the other delegates the fact that California was able to attract at least her share of attention to herself."

IN ROBUST HEALTH.

"I have been feeling excellent," said Mr. Reed in response to a question on the subject by THE TRIBUNE reporter, a question, however, which was superfluous, for the reason that Mr. Reed was round, red and rosy and the very personification of good health."

"I went from here to Chicago and stayed there during the convention and then left for St. Louis, where I stayed three days at the fair and then returned to Chicago and came home."

CALIFORNIA DISPLAY.

"I think the California exhibit in the Fair, taken as a whole, that is, including the mining, fruit, wine, forestry and horticultural exhibits, is the finest of any State in the Fair by far."

"Alameda county's exhibit is the finest county exhibit in the Fair. Nothing can compare with it. Commissioners Gil and Welby deserve great credit, as does also Custodian Pearce. They certainly deserve praise for the way they have conducted the Alameda county exhibit. Mr. Pearce, in charge of the exhibit with Mr. Pearce. They are doing excellent work for the county. Pearce is there every day and he is doing great things to advertise the county and doing everything to promote the best interests of the county."

DEDICATORY EXERCISES.

"I was present at the dedication of the California exhibit, when there were speeches made by Francis J. Governor Purdie. It was late Tuesday afternoon. There was a big crowd and a big band. The Governor delivered his speech a good shape and made a good impression. At 5 o'clock in the evening there was a reception in the California Building."

"The Fair is the greatest affair of the kind that has ever been held and it is well conducted. The attendance has not been up to expectation, but it is hoped that it will increase later."

"I met quite a number of Californians there, strolling around. Of course, you could not keep them long. There was also many from Oakland. Mr. Hamlin joined me at Chicago and we went to the Fair together."

CONVENTION ORATORY.

"I think the last Republican National Convention was one of the most important conventions in the history of the Republican party. The speeches were very much above the average of convention speeches, so much so, that those of Black, Root, Beveridge and Knight will become known as classic productions of Republican oratory. The speech of Root was one of the finest, if not the finest of political speeches that I ever heard. Root is one of the greatest men in the country. He is looked upon as one of the finest men in the country."

KNIGHT'S MONITOR.

"Knight's speech was the best he ever delivered in a convention. It pleased the members of the convention and Knight was congratulated by all the members of the party. He could be heard in all parts of the hall. Did you hear about a man in the gallery saying to him, 'Not so loud, please?' Yes? Well that was one of the funniest things I ever saw. The man was up in the gallery—half a mile away, it seemed. When he said that the house broke into a roar and Knight himself laughed so that he couldn't speak. The speech of Cannon was witty, connected and full of meat, and took the convention by storm."

LEADERS PRESENT.

"I never saw so many of the leading Republicans present. There has never been so many leaders of the party present at a convention before. It was a very enthusiastic convention. There has been a great deal said that there was not much enthusiasm, but there was more enthusiasm than there one would expect under the circumstances."

NOMINATIONS PLEASE.

"The nomination of Roosevelt has taken exceedingly well. Everyone is satisfied that he can beat the Democrats can put up against him. The people are strong for him everywhere."

CALIFORNIA IN FRONT.

"The California delegation, as usual, was much in evidence. They were most sought after and the headquarters was crowded from morning till night, so that some of them had to come in at night. In the convention took a leading part and when the Hawaiian question came up Judge McKinley made one of the best talks of the convention. The Hawaiians were very much pleased with the attitude of the Californians toward them."

"I still think that California is the only place to be in, and I am glad to get home. Very few of the other delegates have returned. Some of them have gone further East, some are at the fair, some have stayed to see relatives and the Governor has stayed to go with the committee on notification to President Roosevelt."

FRANK WOOLSEY MISSING.

DR. E. H. WOOLSEY'S DOG HAS DISAPPEARED FROM HOME.

Frank Woolsey is missing. Frank is a pug dog owned, trained and idolized by Dr. E. H. Woolsey. He is distinguished and is known by almost everybody around town. His fame, in this respect, is to be credited to two things. First, he is supposed to be possessed of the brain of a human, and next, he is "Dr. Woolsey's dog."

This dual distinction has given him an unusual place, day and night, where other canines would be met with either a club or a seltzer bottle.

When the poundman's chariot rattled by, Frank expands his chest, like a pouter pigeon, thus eloquently proclaiming immunity from contamination with the rone intended for vulgar curs.

No one can figure how it is that he has his wit about him, he has allowed himself to stay away from his disconsolate master, or even allowed any person to so gain domination over him as to cause him to absent himself from the berth which he himself appreciated to the full.

It is not thought for a moment that Frank has wandered deserted. The man who has trained him to be the best trick dog in dogdom, neither that he has run away with a circus at a good salary, nor that he has dropped out of sight Saturday night, when Dr. Woolsey went to San Francisco. His run in the doctor's household has not, in his opinion, since the day he is caught with him will get his just desert from both the doctor and the law. The honest finder of the pet will be handsomely rewarded.

HOME MISSIONS AND PATRIOTISM.

A patriotic service in charge of the young people will be held tonight in the Union Street Presbyterian Church. The general theme will be "Home Missions and Patriotism." A special program of recitations, songs, etc., has been prepared by the Missionary Committee of the Christian Endeavor Society. This is the regular monthly meeting of the Missionary Substitute Company, which has its missionaries working in various fields at home and abroad.

MRS. CUVELLIER HAS PASSED AWAY.

WIFE OF COUNCILMAN DIED AT HER HOME THIS MORNING.

Mrs. B. C. Cuvellier, wife of Councilman Cuvellier, of this city, died this morning at 7 o'clock at the family home, 1223 Union street, in the forty-eighth year of her age. The deceased had been an invalid for ten years, though her suffering during the past few months was of the most intense character.

Mrs. Cuvellier had been a resident of this city since 1883.

She came here at that time with her husband and family from the Southern part of the country, and has since endeavored herself to those with whom she came in contact.

She was a woman devotedly attached to her home and family and in the exercise of that devotion found her chiefest charm in life. She was of a sunny temperament and enjoyed the association of congenial friends, but evinced no interest in the engrossments and exactions of social life. Her passing away is regretted by all who experienced the benison of her lovely disposition and who had an opportunity of appreciating the fortitude she displayed in the closing years of her life.

Mrs. Cuvellier was the daughter of Alexander Toffler, of Tally Ho Plantation, Iberville Parish, Louisiana. She was the mother of five children, some of whom have grown to manhood's estate and all of whom survive her, viz: Rene, Charles, Jeannette, Harold and Carmelita.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock from the family residence. The remains will be incinerated at Oakland Crematory. Services will be private.

HEROES FORGET TO PLUG CANNON DUTY. WITH CEMENT.

TEN OR MORE NAVAL APPRENTICES DESERT AFTER MARCHING IN PARADE.

Breathing the air of independence in Oakland on Fourth of July had an extremely intoxicating effect on ten or more of the apprentices at the naval training station at Yerba Buena Island for they have failed to show up since.

After marching in the parade to the dedication of 20,000 or more spectators, the naval apprentices were taken to the "Willows" to rest.

The freedom from restraint and discipline was too much for some of the young naval heroes and they followed their fancy instead of their duty. They left their guns and bolts on the grass where they have been picked up.

The naval authorities at Goat Island have requested Chief of Police Hodgkins to assist in locating the youngsters who have strayed from the path of duty.

NO FURTHER OPPORTUNITY OF DISCHARGING HISTORIC RELIC WILL BE GIVEN.

Superintendent of Streets Ott, who four years ago plugged the Dewey cannon to prevent anyone from firing it off, now promises that he will place the cannon beyond the power of the mischievously inclined to discharge it. There will be no reliance placed this time in wooden plugs. The barrel will be filled with cement, making it impossible to insert anything. It would take several days' drilling to loosen the cement sufficiently to insert a charge of powder.

The police are still working on the clues in their possession. Chief of Police Hodgkins said this morning that he had nothing new to report in the matter.
